

FURTHER READING

Non fiction:

- Staying Power by Peter Fryer - An overview of the history of black people in Britain
- Black & British by David Olusoga - the story of Britain's long relationship with Africa and the Caribbean
- The Heart of the Race: Black Women's Lives in Britain by B.Bryan, S.Dadzie & S.Scafe - an account using oral history that tells the story of black women's journey from the Caribbean to Britain
- A Kick in the Belly: Women, Slavery & Resistance by Stella Dadzie - a focus on enslaved women and how they fought back
- Feminism Interrupted by Lola Olufemi - an overview of contemporary feminist thinking

Fiction:

- New Daughters of Africa ed. Margaret Busby - A collection of writing by women from across the African diaspora
- Sacred Hunger by Barry Unsworth - a story about slavery, set in Liverpool
- Book of the Night Women by Marlon James - a powerful novel about enslaved women, set on a plantation in Jamaica
- The Long Song by Andrea Levy - ditto
- Small Island by Andrea Levy - a story about newly arrived immigrants in post war Britain

